FROM THE EDITOR

I would have never believed eleven years ago that all of us would know so much about so many different Martin families as we do today.

The majority of Martin Family Quarterly subscribers are researching Martin families with southern origins (Virginia, Maryland, North Carolina beginnings). I am trying to expand coverage from Pennsylvania to the north, but we have never attracted very many subscribers who were researching in Pennsylvania or New England.

Louise Martin Mohler has published three books on her New England Martins during the past few years. These books have extensive coverage on Martins from Dover, N. H.; Piscataway, N.J. and Ohio. Many of Mrs. Mohler's cousins have also done excellent research on this New England and Ohio Martin family. I am trying to add other Martin families to their work.

The Quarterly files are particularly weak in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Iowa. If you are researching Martins in these four states I would gratefully accept your records. If your Martins migrated to these four states from the South this quarterly will probably be of help to you in the near future. If they migrated from New England it will be some time before the Quarterly will be able to help.

It is obvious that it isn't possible to have the answer to everyone's Martin problem. I am trying to document as many as possible though and your interests guide research into new areas.

JOHN MARTIN OF PLYMOUTH

by Louise Martin Mohler

New and interesting information regarding the Martin family who settled in New Jersey in 1666 has come to light. It has resulted from the sharp observations of Betty Jane Hamner of San Antonio, Texas who first became aware of the connections in Plymouth. We all owe a deep debt of thanks.

For several years many of the Martin family genealogists have doubted the much published connections in New England to Isaac Martin. In fact, it has been reprinted so often that most consider it fact. But if one reads in detail the information it is quite obvious that it is simple and pure guess work. There were several John Martins in New England at the same time and evidently, they became confused. We hope this is now put to rest, once and for all.

Our thanks also go to Mr. James R. Ewing, attorney at law of Wheeling, West Virginia. Mr. Ewing traveled to Plymouth, England in 1983 to pursue and track down the real beginnings of our John Martin.

Mr. Ewing interviewed Mrs. Hamner's contact in Plymouth, a Mr. Thomas W. Maddock. He is a descendant of John Martin, mayor of Ivybridge (a small town a short distance from Plymouth), president of the Mayflower Society and an officer in the Plymouth Genealogical Society.

Mr. Maddock has been collecting data on this family for about 40 years. In his opinion and from his research, he is confident the John Martin born in 1618, son of John Martin and Suzan Herertin, is our John Martin! (Immigrant to America).

Evidence shows John Martin of Plimouth did go on the voyage with Sir Francis Drake to protect the investors, of which he was one. The trip was a financial success and John Martin purchased "Shaugh Prior" after his return, a manor house in the country. It was 200 years old when he purchased it and it is still standing and being lived in. Mr. Ewing and Mr. Maddock toured the house in 1983.

Mr. Ewing obtained copies of the above John Martin's will, as well as the will of his son, John Martin, Junior, in London. The will is written in old English script and translating it into American English was no easy task for Mr. Ewing, but it was carefully translated.

The will of this John Martin of Plimouth was written in 1624 and probated in 1627. It leaves money and property to son, Francis Martin; son, John Martin; grandchildren, John, Mary and Jairsce/Jaisctman, children of son, John Martin; and grandchildren, Grace, Mary and Prudence, children of son Francis Martin.

Mr. Maddock produced a list of the mayors of Plymouth and listed there was the elder John Martin as mayor: 1569-70, 1602-03, 1622-23. Sir Francis Drake as mayor 1581-82. John Martin, Junior as mayor 1634-35.

John Martin, Junior (son of John Martin, will 1624) was born 7 Dec. 1585 and baptized at St. Andrews Church in Plymouth, where a chart hangs of this genealogy. He died before 1638. He married first, 22 July 1610, Suzan Hemertin and married second to Johanna Dock. He married Johanna Dock after the 1620 chart had been made, so Suzen Hemertin was the mother of the children.

The will of John Martin, Junior was also obtained in London by Mr. Ewing. He left money and property to daughters, Mary and Susan, but no mention is made of son, John Martin. Mr. Maddock states that John Martin had already left for America and taken his inheritance with him. Since John (who came to America) was named in his grandfather's 1624 will, we can assume he came to America between the dates of 1624 (date of grandfather's will) and 15 March 1638 (date his father's will was probated).

The venture in settling America was financed by the Trelawny, Martin, Drake and Maddock families, among others. An overseer named Winter wrote letters to Mr. Trelawny from America on a regular basis. These letters were preserved and are in a book, The Trelawny Papers. Mrs. Hamner is trying to borrow a copy of this book. One known reference in this book is to daughter, Francis, who was executed for taking the life of her illegimate child in Boston.

According to the Trelawny Papers, "John Martin was sent out in 1637 to Maine with a note from Robert Trelawny of Plimouth to his Uncle Francis Martin of Casco, Maine (New Hampshire) a decayed Gentleman in financial trouble."

John Martin, the immigrant to America, was born in 1620. He died in 1687, Piscataway, N. J. John married 1646 to Ester (Hester) Roberts, b. 1628, Dover, N. H., d. 1687, Piscataway, N. J. Thomas Roberts was governor of New Hampshire. Roberts made his will in 1673 and in this will he made a bequest to his daughter, Hester, wife of John Martin, and being in New Jersey.

The Martins were neither Puritans or Pilgrims, but became early supporters of the Baptist faith.

John Martin was in Dover, N. H. by 1646 when he married Ester Roberts. Dover, N. H. was settled as an economic venture rather than religious. The original name of Dover was Piscataqua and the Piscataqua River flows there. John was still in Dover in 1655, but from 1661 to 1671 he was credited to Oyster River. John Martin's family was one of the first four to settle in New Jersey.

In the fall of 1666, a half dozen families living on the banks of Piscataque River in New Hampshire moved to the rich farming lands on the banks of the Raritan River in New Jersey.

John Martin took an active interest in the settlement and also the Baptist church. The minister of the Baptist church witnessed his will.

Some of the descendants of John Martin, the immigrant, and his wife, Ester Roberts, will be given in future issues of the Quarterly. These descendants were early settlers to Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio.

CUMBERLAND COUNTY, VIRGINIA

Southern Historical Press, Easley, S. C. published a book in 1985 entitled, Abstracts of Cumberland County, Virginia, Will Books 1 and 2, 1749-1782, abstracted by Katherine Reynolds. If you are researching in Cumberland Co. I am sure you would want to own this book, but I want to point out an error that is very important.

I have original copies of Martin wills of Cumberland Co. and have also read the original deeds. On page 78 and 79 of Vol. X of the Martin Family Quarterly you will find the complete wills of John Martin, 1777, and Orson Martin, 1786.

John Martin of Littleton Parish, Cumberland Co., Va. made his will 3 Jan. 1777 and it was proved 23 March 1778. John was about to enter Continental service when he made his will. He left the plantation where he lived to "my cousin Stephen Martin son of Benjamin Martin and half the land adjacent thereunto." John left the other part of his land, supposed to be 50 acres, to Martin Dowdy son of Richard Dowdy. John directed all the rest of his estate to be sold and equally divided between "all my brothers and sisters." "Lastly I nominate and appoint my loving brother Benjamin Martin whole and sole executor of this my last will and testament."

The book of abstracts has - "Exrs,: my loving brothers, Ben, James and Martin." THIS IS INCORRECT. The correct sentence is as above beginning with the word Lastly. John didn't name any brother except - Benjamin!
